

A unique international conference for all young biomedical professionals to exchange professional experiences, form collaborations and get inspired by world-renowned speakers on the beautiful Croatian coast.

Looking back at Plexus 2022

September 23-25 | Split, Croatia

Inspiring fireside chats

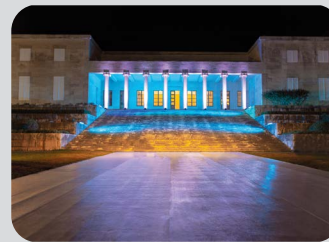

Plexus participants had the amazing opportunity to listen to career paths, advice, challenges, failures and successes of the most prominent leaders in science and medicine, including:

- 🏆 3 Nobel laureates
- 🏢 Chief Medical Officer of Microsoft
- 🌐 Chief Scientist of the World Health Organization
- 💉 Vice President of AstraZeneca
- 🇩🇷 Croatian scientists Dr. Primorac, Dr. Lauc, Dr. Đikić

Gorgeous venues

To add to the inspirational environment, we chose some of the most stunning locations in the beautiful city Split: from the Art Nouveau-styled concert hall "Croatian home" in the center of Split and the 1700-year-old Roman palace, all the way to the unique Gala Dinner in gorgeous gardens of Gallery Meštrović, a historic building which was the home of Ivan Meštrović, one of the most prominent sculptors in Croatian history.

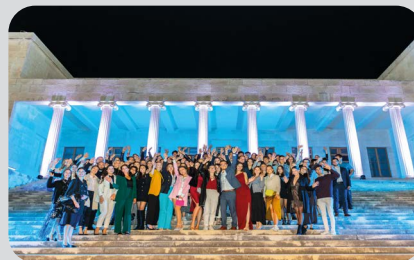

Unique networking opportunities

With 250 medical students, young physicians and scientists from almost 30 countries, including more than 30 nationalities, Plexus was a great place to meet colleagues from around the world. What's more, our whole program was aimed at promoting connections, from our Welcome Night to the beautiful Gala Dinner at historic venues. In this regard, Plexus is a conference like no other.

See you at Plexus 2023!

Plexus 2022 is only the start of a unique story on the Croatian coast, a story that will hopefully inspire young people for years to come. So, get ready for Plexus 2023 and more networking, amazing speakers, inspiration and great vibes. See you all in Split 15th-17th September!
